Lytec Procedure: Achieve Paid Billings

If you've been using Lytec for many years, your database is probably quite large. To improve performance during search functions, you may want to archive old paid billings or appointments.

Once archived, these billings can only show on certain reports such as the Patient Ledger, Transaction Journal and Practice Analysis if you chose to include Archived billing. To archive Paid Billings, first log in as the SYSTEM user, make sure you are the only user logged into Lytec. Only paid billings with a Zero balance that have been closed on a Day Sheet will archive.

Go to the Activities menu and choose Paid/ Archived Billings/ Archive Paid Billings. You will be prompted through making a backup before the paid billings are archived. Choose the Billing Created Dates range you wish to archive, I usually keep the current and the prior year Active, so I would enter the date range of 1/1/2006 - 12/31/2006. If you have never archived paid billings before, leave the first date range empty and enter 12/31/2006 in the second date range. This will archive zero balance paid billings that have been closed on a Day Sheet up through 12/31/2006. These billings can be unarchived if needed.

Medicare Bill Includes ePrescribing Bonus:

Source: Matthew DoBias, Modern Healthcare
 [7/10/08]

Eligible physicians can expect some financial relief courtesy of the federal government simply by adding a jolt of modern technology to their practice.

Under a measure approved by the Senate, doctors who are paid by Medicare would become eligible for bonus payments just for filing prescriptions electronically rather than writing them out by hand. The e-prescribing requirement, which also covers a reporting initiative, is part of a broader Medicare bill that first cleared the House in June.

The bill allows for a stepped-down system of bonus payments, running from 2009 through 2013. At the outset, doctors would be eligible for a 2% bump in reimbursement dollars for e-prescribing, which would gradually decrease over time as the technology becomes more common and less expensive. Conversely, physicians who don't e-prescribe would start to see a reduction in pay starting in 2012. The Senate measure also requires the Government Accountability Office to study the effectiveness of e-prescribing, culminating in a comprehensive report by late 2012.
